[FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE]
January 23 2008

Effective Jan 1, 2008, Edge Integration Systems, Inc. announced that it has officially changed its name to Reach Systems, Inc. All ownership, personnel, offices and products of the company remain the same.

Edge chose to rename the company and flagship product, the Edge Access Control System (Edge ACS), to further differentiate our unique service-based access control solution from other legacy security products using the word “Edge” in their name. Many of these similarly named products belong to our valued partners like respected card reader manufacturer, HID Global.

The Edge ACS and EdgeWeb hosted software platform represent a critical industry turning point in the way access control services are provided. Edge solutions allow security integrators and their central stations to provide value-added services and monitoring for their clients – earning recurring revenue while building lifelong customer relationships. The Edge ACS has now become the Reach Access Control System (Reach ACS). The web hosted software platform, EdgeWeb, is now called ReachNet[®].

The new company website is www.reachsystems.com. All existing company websites and email addresses will continue to function and will automatically forward to the new web domains.

Thank you for your continued support as we enter a new era in access control.
